

New Head of Cruise Operations for Liverpool Cruise Terminal

Peter Murney is to take the helm as Head of Cruise Operations at Liverpool Cruise Terminal. This follows Angie Redhead's new role as Head of City Assets which includes Cruise, St George's Hall, the Town Hall and Tourist Information.

Pete brings with him a wealth of knowledge, experience and know-how not only from his 24 year career with the Royal Navy but also since joining Liverpool Cruise Terminal in 2013. Over the last four years, Pete has worked on a variety of core operations, projects and major maritime events and so is well placed to continue to grow and develop the success of Liverpool Cruise Terminal, particularly as the city progresses new cruise terminal plans.
