

Intelligence, Research and iNsight

IRN Research is a full-service market research consultancy that was formed in 1991 and has a strong track record in providing market research services to business across all industry sectors. If your needs are for a small-scale UK-based research project or for a large-scale, multi-country research project, IRN can help. To satisfy our client's needs we utilise a range of market research techniques, including desk research, telephone/online surveys, face-to-face interviews, focus groups, and can provide a full results analysis. Responding to our client's needs, we go beyond the data and present our clients with actionable insight.

We collect the Intelligence, conduct the market Research and present the iNsight to our clients. For further details see www.irn-research.com.
